

Associate Software Developer

Header: Associate Software developer

Description below: Become a PREACTER and work with us as our new Associate.

Who is PREACT?

PREACT is a young and ambitious IT solution and consultancy company. We are in constant growth, and we founded the company in 2019 with an ambition to “make insight simple”. Since then, we have helped a wide range of customers from different industries make better data-driven decisions based on their enormous amount of data. To accomplish this mission, we use tools as Microsoft SQL, Microsoft Azure, Power BI, Power Automate etc.

Why should you become a PREACTER?

You are interested in working with data and enjoy counselling customers in the right direction when they implement and develop data solutions. Furthermore, you have the chance to work for a smaller consultancy where you constantly have a close contact with you colleagues in a dynamic organizational culture. This also means that you'll join a smaller consultancy company where we avoid the complicated processes that can happen in a larger organization.

Or maybe you just want to work with the newest and leading technologies in the intersection between Web development, Business Intelligence and AI?

What are your key responsibilities?

As an Associate in PREACT you will have to be willing to learn and try new and exciting things that you have maybe not covered in your study. We are looking for a passionate and energetic person who always does the best to accomplish the various tasks that is given.

It will be considered an asset if you have experience within one of more of the following areas:

- ASP.NET Core
- Entity Framework
- Microsoft Azure
- Microsoft SQL
- Power BI

Furthermore, you are on a relevant academic study as HA(it.), Software Engineering, BSc DM etc. Maybe you have just started your masters and is looking for an exciting place to evolve your skills.

Still in doubt?

Centrally located office in CPH! We are located in the center of Copenhagen, so there is always life outside the door.

We offer you an attractive salary. Furthermore, you of course get a phone, computer, internet etc.

Social arrangements! We are convinced that one of the most valuable assets in the company are a strong social culture.

Education! We provide you with education as certificates and courses if you want to develop in a specific area.

Flexible! We encourage all of our colleagues to be at the office, but you can always work remote if you want.

Want to know more?

If you want to hear more or are interested in the job, please contact Peter Bech pb@preact.dk

“People with talent are always in demand”